ALL THE DETAILS

- Students choose their own topics.
- They create a visual presentation to accompany what they talk about.
- This aids the audience in comprehension of what may be an unfamiliar topic.
- This is a fast project to put together and it's even faster to grade!
- The last few days of class are filled with fun and interesting student presentations!

Why I Love This

Students have autonomy to choose to share something they know well and are passionate about, or to learn something they've always wanted to know more about. The result is motivated students!

The best part for the teacher:
-being able to show students how far they've come in their Spanish-learning journey!
