Teacher Notes

I use this schedule with the students who will be taking the AP Test. Over the years, I have had a variety of combinations:

- all students taking the AP test
- some taking it, some not
- most NOT taking it (this year that is the case because we have a partnership with our State University. Most students have chosen to earn college credit that way instead.)

What I do when there are many NOT taking the exam:

-I usually assign a debate for students who are not taking the exam. They work in their teams to prepare during the week that my AP Testers work to prepare to take the exam. That debate is included in my Unit 6 Plans and also sold separately.

Test Prep Sources:

-I am fortunate to have several AP Spanish Test Prep sources. The ones I have used include:

- Vista Higher Learning AP Spanish Test Prep Workbook
- Spanish Preparing for the Language and Culture Examination.

-For teachers who do not have these resources, I would recommend using the AP Classroom sources.

² HERE is the Fuentes Charts resource- it's sold separately and best used in conjunction with each unit. If you didn't have them before, there's no reason why students can't use them to make notes as they prepare for the exam! Mine did for years before I realized they could use them all year long!
